

UNIVERSITY RESOURCE CENTRE

Specialist – Academics & Pedagogy, Theories in Education

Location | Bangalore

Position ID: SAPT/URC

Role

'Theories in Education' is a unit of Academics and Pedagogy wing of University Resource Center, engaged in analyzing, critiquing and synthesizing theories in education. Specialist - Theories in Education will provide high quality content creation and delivery support to University resource center's continuing education programs. This position reports to Head- Academics and Pedagogy.

Principal Responsibilities

- Create a body of knowledge – Critically examine theory and practices of current education system from philosophical, psychological perspective.
- Apply these theories to find an answer to current issues in education.
- Conceptualise and create short term and long term continuing education programs for teachers and education functionaries on philosophical and psychological perspectives.
- Designing modules based on the development needs analysis, for Teachers and Education functionaries.
- Facilitating sessions with teachers and education functionaries.
- Conceptualizing capacity development programs for Teachers, field staff and education functionaries.
- Visiting schools regularly and supporting teachers.
- Provide philosophical and psychological perspectives to other units/functions of the University.

Attributes, Qualification and Experience

- Post graduation education with specialization in: Philosophy of education/Psychology of education/Developmental psychology.
- At least 3 yrs of experience in designing modules, facilitating sessions with teachers.
- Experience of dealing academic issues with teachers.
- Fluency in Kannada and English or Hindi and English

Personal Competencies

- Ability to unlearn and relearn
- Willingness to travel
- Good interpersonal skills, proven facilitation skills
- High resilience